EXECUTIVE PROFILE

A Strategic Industrialist

Dr. Elizabeth Jack-Rich is a visionary business executive, industrialist, and entrepreneur whose leadership is shaping one of Africa's emerging indigenous industrial groups. She has transformed Elin Group from an indigenous energy services company into a multi-sector holding company delivering integrated solutions across industries fundamental to Africa's economic growth.

Her executive experience spans upstream and midstream oil and gas operations, engineering support services, maritime logistics, dredging, aviation operations, mining, infrastructure development, energy solutions, and business transformation, leading multidisciplinary teams and executing complex projects in highly regulated industries.

A licensed Aircraft Dispatcher, she combines technical knowledge with entrepreneurial vision, championing women empowerment, youth development, education, and sustainable community development alongside her industrial leadership.
